Cannery Row John Steinbeck

Cannery Row is a novel by American author John Steinbeck, published in 1945. It is set during the Great Depression in Monterey, California, on a street lined with sardine canneries that is known as Cannery Row. The story revolves around the people living there: Lee Chong, the local grocer; Doc, a marine biologist; and Mack, the leader of a group of derelict people. The actual location Steinbeck was writing about, Ocean View Avenue in Monterey, was later renamed "Cannery Row" in honor of the book

John Steinbeck's Cannery Row - Lasting Impression Cannery Row has been criticized for being too nostalgic and sentimental. It is clear that the memories and associations of the place are central to John Steinbeck's own life as he re-works the text several times in his life. If it is sentimental though, so be it as I absolutely loved it.
