Because of pride, we will never apologize for the past shattered by both our hands, by the pain we caused, by the scars we left, by the words we carelessly threw around, stabbing our innocent hearts till they bled dry and turned black. It's not my fault, it's your fault - we both choose to believe, so our egos can be in place.

Pride Always Knows Best. The man didn't grumble out loud to Moses and Aaron (Numbers 14:2), or bring his mistress to church with him (Numbers 25:6), or build a statue to worship (Exodus 32:4). He doesn't seem to make a scene ("they found a man . . ."). But he quietly exchanged God for his house project. He chose his own work over God's word.
